

The following properties are listed on Reading's Historical and Architectural Inventory and are thus subject to the Demolition of Structures of Potential Historical Significance By-Law in Section 5.13 in the Reading General By-Laws. This By-Law allows the Reading Historical Commission to review and work with the property owner and other interested parties before any demolition permits are issued by the Building Inspector. The purpose of this Bylaw is to preserve and protect historically significant structures within the Town.

MF Charles Building, 600-604 Main Street, 1894
National Register of Historic Places

U.S. Post Office, 136 Haven Street 1918

21 Sanborn Street, 1931

17 Sanborn Street, 1883

11 Sanborn Street, 1924. New England Telephone Switchboard Building

Reading Depot

25 Haven Street, former Reading Municipal Light Plant, 1939