Bunratty Tavern Construction Continues!

The next time you drive by Bunratty Tavern, slow down a little and listen really hard.... along with the sound of drills and hammers you might just hear a wee bit of traditional Irish music drifting out the door! And also note the fabulous outdoor dining area... there are going to be lots of pleasant evenings to be had sitting out there and watching the world go by.

There is no firm opening date set just yet but the interior work is being done and the building sign is going to be installed soon. The tavern will offer live entertainment, traditional Irish homemade cooked meals, and an extensive beer, wine, and liquor selection. So keep watching the construction and looking forward to opening day!
