Martin Luther King Day Multi-Community

Annual Breakfast & Celebration

Monday ~ January 18 ~ 9:30 to 11:30 AM ~ Cost: Free!

Illuminating Diversity!

The Light of Martin Luther King's Dreams Coming True...

RMHS William Endsloew Performing Arts Center
62 Oakland Road ~ Reading, MA

Performances by Community and School Groups

Bagels & Student Presentations starting at 9:30 AM

Join the Reading Human Relations Advisory Committee at the Annual Martin Luther King Day Celebration on Monday, January 18th 2016 from 9:30 - 11:30 where we will all Illuminate Diversity – basking in the light of what has been accomplished and lighting the way for what has yet to be done.

After a light breakfast and an opportunity to talk with community and student organizations about the ways in which they are “Illuminating Diversity,” the Performing Arts Center at RMHS will come alive with performances by Community, School, and METCO groups.

Sponsored by local businesses and foundations, this multi-community event will empower and inspire you. Please join us as we ‘Illuminate Diversity.’

The Zoning Board of Appeals

Needs You!

The Zoning Board of Appeals is seeking one more member and it could be you! You don't need to know the current zoning bylaws or have any experience in zoning at all. All you need is an interest in helping your community and an open mind. It's one of those "learn as you go" experiences where you gain a little more understanding at each meeting. The current members will help you and explain what they are doing and why.

Your commitment is minimal... two or less meetings per month for a few hours each meeting. This is a great opportunity to help your community and learn something new!

For more information or to apply contact Paula Schena at 781-942-6643.

Questions: If you have any questions about all the activity going on around town ...just ask and we will find you the answer!
